HIS TRIFLING SIN LONG REMEMBERED.

General Passenger Agent Roberts of the Erie has had his faith in human nature strongly reinforced. A case of contribution to the conscience fund has been brought to his notice, which is explained fully in the appended letter, in which hames are suppressed for obvious reasons:

"Some seventeen years ago, I believe, I stole a ride over your road from to a distance of seventeen miles, and back. I rode up in the night on the cowcatcher, and finding I was on the wrong road I told the engineer and he took me back in the engine cab. I do not know of ever stealing but two rides on the railroad in my life. One account I have settled, I send you postoffice money order for $1.5, which, I trust, will settle principal and interest, even if the fare were then five cents per mile. I have repented of my sins and desire forgiveness from God and man. Respectfully yours. names are suppressed for obvious reasons

The interesting series of polo matches which was arranged by the Polo Committee, the ruling power of the Polo Association, to take place in the last week of this month at two or three of the nearby country clubs, are month at two or three of the nearby country clubs, are not to be played this autumn. This decision was arrived at some days ago when it was found that it would be impossible to gather a sufficient number of "crack" players to form the different teams. The games were to be for handsome gold and sliver club trophies and for individual cups, offered by Eugene Higgins. They were to be played without handicap by the Independence team of the Morris County Country Club against any polo team in the country. At a meeting some time ago the Polo Committee selected as the opposing team Foxhall Keene and John E. Cowdin, of the Rockaway Club; R. L. Agnaniz, of the Myopia Polo Club, and O. W. MR. BENEVILLE A SCHOOL COMMISSIONER.

Emile Benevitic, of No. 414 East One-hundred-and sixteenth-st., was appointed a Commissioner of Public Schools by Mayor Gilroy yesterday to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Isaac A. He is a member of the Stuyvexant Ciub, a Tammany organization.

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT'S SON UNINJURED.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 21 (Special).—The eldest son of Cornelius Vanderbilt, named after while hunting with the hounds yesterday had a while halling with the hounds yesterday had a had fall while taking a wall. He sustained no in-juries, and was able to De out driving and to call upon his friends this afternoon. Dr. Beverly Robin-son, of New-York, who was called in, said to-night that the young man was all right; that no bones were broken, and the patient was as well as he was before the accident. His father was surprised when he learned that the "accident" was considered of sufficient importance to be chronicled in the newspapers. The hunt took place on his farm, "Oakland," in the town of Portsmouth, and was given by Mr. Vanderbilt in honor of the young friends of his son.

HE HAD A GOOD TIME, BUT LOST HIS MONEY. Frank A. Peet, the son of a prominent lawyer in Canaan, Conn., came to this city on Monday. He had gay time, yet did not enjoy himself theroughly, if his own tale of woe may be believed. Mr. Peet is said to have stocks and bords to the value of $500,000 deposited with the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company, No. 120 Broadway. However that may be, he on Tuesday drew $600 in payment of coupons, and inmediately disappeared. The next that was known of him was when he appeared, belpless with drink, at the East Fifty-Brst-st. station, in helpless with drink, at the East Fifty-first-si, station, in charge of a policeman, who had found his prisoner recling along the sidewalk in Third-ave, and uttering war-winops in a shrill falsetto. But in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday Peet told a rather different story. According to his account he, at 7 o'clock, entered Metowan's liquor store at Forty-third-st, and Third-ave. A big, burly, rough-looking man stepped up to him and struck him in the face. The blow stunned him for a' moment, and as he recovered his senses he staggered out of the store to the sidewalk where he met the policeman. He confided to him his treuble, but was arrested in the character of a "drunk and disorderity."

Of the #600 only $10 remained, and Mr. Peet has a dim sort of idea that he lost his money in the liquor cratic party in passing. Ex-Judge Ernest Hall offered the following lution, which was most enthusiastically adopted: Resolved, That an honest ballot and a fair count ar and always have been fundamental principles of the Re-publican party and cornerstones of the Republic, and are paramount to any question of dollars and cents; and that every citizen is equally interested in maintaining those principles, and that the continuance of a free government by the people is absolutely dependent upon them.

That the present attempt of the party in poter to repeal the Federal Elections laws, which have been upon the statute book for more than twenty years, is a blow aimed at the sanctity of the ballot, which merit the hearty condemnation of all good citizens, and is no the hearty condemnation of all good citizens, and is not justified or necessitated by any popular or immediate demand, but is solely an attempt to gain a partism advantage. Resolved, That no question now before Congress is superior to pure and free elections, and that it is the imperative duty of every Republican in Congress to use all lentimate means to defeat the repeal of such laws.

Charles H. Murray presented the following resolution, which was also unanimously adopted: Whereas, The Republican party of the State of New

THE SUCCESSION OF RUMORS ABOUT NEW THEATRES TO BE BUILT IS AS EXPLESS

AS IT IS UNFOUNDED. There have been floating about recently many wild, fantastic and unfounded rumors that new the atres were to be built in this city. These rumors have all been of a nebulous character, with more of ridiculousness than probability about them, ex-pecially in view of the fact that this city has already as many theatres as it can possibly support. More theatres have been built here within the last five years than in the preceding fifteen years. Some of them have been financial failures and have been put in the hands of receivers. The theatre-going public has all of variety and number that it desires.

Yet every now and then the whisper goes the rounds that a new theatre is to be built, and sometimes two or three such rumors are in the air at once. Where they come from nobody knows. De Lancey Nicoli said that the Grand Jury would finish its investigation to-day, and that he expected that a presentment, and pos sibly an indictment, would be found. The case in vestigated was the homicide by Samuel Mills, who killed William O'Brien on July 7. The papers in the case had not been sent to the District-Attorney office, and this being but one of the many instances of neglect in the Coroner's office, the District-Attorney brought it to the atten-tion of the Grand Jury. The Grand Jury was also informed that it looked as though the three witnesses in the case-Francis Weylang, James Kennedy and John Coleman-would have to remain in the House of Detention for the rest of their lives In answer to the question why the Coroner's office had delayed in sending the papers to th District-Attorney's office, Coroner Schultze is re-ported to have said "not enough typewriters to do the work." He was excited when asked about the investigation.

"I welcome any investigation that they may se to make, and am perfectly ready to give my testimony," he said, "I have always attacled to my duties; whenever I have been to the theatre or other places I have left my address, so that could be called in a hurry if needed.

District-Attorney Nicoll said yesterday that he had received so many complaints about the Coroner's office in the last six months, and that he had been so annoyed by the Coroner's failure to give him any satisfaction, he had decided to stand this neglect no longer. "There have been nundreds of cases just like the Mills case," said the Church's history, congranulatory upon its present work and standing among religious creeds, and expressive of confidence as to its future.

Buck's anthem, "Beloved! there shall be a day when the watchman upon the mountaintop shall cry about? Harles ye," was sung by the soprano soloist, William G. Muller, for the offertory.

Luncheon was served in the parish-house. At 3 Celock the exercises closed with evensong and addresses.

At the luncheon of the clergy five toasts were At the luncheo fifty of these cases circumstances pointed to foul play. Many cases where bodies have been allowed to lie for nearly a week because the police were mable to find a coroner have come up. this neglect was that of the child of Mrs. M. Wolf, of No. 156 West Eighteenth-st., which died on a Thursday and was still in the house on Sun-day because no coroner could be found.

When asked to explain the cause of the disgraceful delays in taking ante-mortem statements of persons who had been shot, stabbed or otherwise maltreated in a way likely to result in death. Coroner McKenna gave the same account as did Coroner Schulze of his precautions whenever he went to the theatre. But Coroner Shea's view of his respensibilities as a coroner will be highly interesting to the public which pays his salary.
"I do not consider it any part of my duty to instruct my wife or my son or my daughter or my servants as to where I may be found at one time and where I may be found at another," said the Coroner. "There is nothing in the law which obliges me to make the members of my family attaches of the Coroner's office."
"Take the case of an attempted murder," said the reporter. "A failure of justice would result from the delay or the failure to take an antemortem statement."

"But how am I to tell whether it is a case of murder or one of simple accident." answered Coroner Shea. "The message left at my house generally contains no further information than that an ante-mortem statement is awaiting my attention at one or other of the hospitals." When asked to explain the cause of the disgrace rally contains no further information than that an infer-mortern statement is awaiting my attention it one or other of the hospitals."

None of the three Coroners could clearly explain why it was that eight or nine or even nineteen nours frequently clapsed between the time of the rall and the arrival of the Coroner. Coroner Messemer, of course, could not be found.

EXCELLENT TENNIS AT STATEN ISLAND

EXCITING CONTESTS IN THE LADIES' CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES.

Play in the tennis tournament of the States Island Ladies' Club continued yesterday afternoon before a large crowd. There were some excellent contests in the mixed doubles, the most interesting one being between the rival teams from the Kings County Club, Miss Atkinson and Dr. Frazer and Miss Hellwig and Miss McGowan. The former team won the first set with the score 4-1 against them, and after losing the second set, captured the third in splendid style. In the ladies' doubles the hard driving of the Misses Erving proved too much for Miss Brush and Miss Hellwig, though they made the third and Miss Heffwig, though they made the third and deciding set doubtful until the last stroke. Miss Moore and Miss Atkinson disposed of Miss Terry, the champion, and her partner, Miss Collard, the champion seemingly trying to do too much of the playing. In the singles, however, Miss Terry showed her real form. All the finals will be played to-day.

The results follow:

Sheriff Cushing was attacked last night like the others, and telephoned to the court this morning that he could not attend. Attorney-General Pillsbury and ex-Governor Long had unpleasant experiences during the night, and District-Attorney Weir was afflicted at his home in Lowell, while Messrs. Schofield and Coggan, of the defence, also fell victims to the disorder. The peas which are supposed to have caused this condition of things formed part of the dinner served yesterday by a Lowell caterer, who has the contract for furnishing meals to the interested persons in the Trefethen trial.

The jury finally appeared in court some two hours late. At 2:15 p. m., on account of the illness of one of the jurymen, the court adjourned until to-morrow morning. supposed to have been caused by French peas
